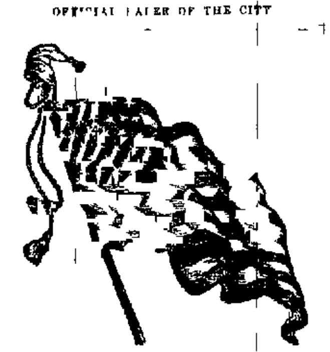
OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY



No flag but the Old Flag—the Red White and Blue,
With the stars of a Union unbroken and true!
Arise and defend it ye sons of the brave
Whose blood bought the banner your valor must save

THURSDAY MORNING, MAR 19 1863.

BY TELEGRAPH —We have the first reports of the election in New Hampshire, which indicate a failure to elect a Governor by the people, but show that the "Peace Democracy" has not succeeded in its attempts to send members of Congress of its own stamp or to give the State a Legislature of the same sort Beyond a question, Gilmore, (Union) will be the Governor, and the Granite State as heretofore, will ' stand by the flag ' and the men who fight for it For many weeks, we have heard that tremendous efforts were being made to seduce the freemen of New Hampshire from their allegiance to the Government, —money, lies, blunders of the Administration, absence of soldiers—all have been employed in behalf of the rebellion, and considering the loss to the loyal vote of those who prove their patriotism by their courage in the field, while the friends of Jeff Davis stay at home to do mischief, it is not surprising that the Union ranks have suffered somewhat In that State, as in others, it has been difficult to furnish troops to crush secession at the South, and at the same time overcome, at home, the elements of opposition to the Government and its measures

The war news is not important The committee of investigation of causes of the repulse at Fredericksburg, have examined Gen Hooker, who gave a very plain answer to the first question proposed Whatever may be thought of its correctness, at least all must acknowledge that it is entirely free from "circumlocution." We trust that his own success will never allow an opportunity for any brother officer to make a similar reply

Some additional executive appointments are also reported, though none of special interest to our readers

FROM VICTORIA —The schooner Explorer loaded with a valuable cargo of merchandize, bound for the North west coast of British Columbia was wrecked on Big Island, and was totally lost. The passengers and crew and a part of her cargo were saved.

The first great rush to the mines from Victoria commenced on the 10th inst —about two hundred leaving on the steamer The Colonist thinks they are a month too early, and that they must suffer many privations by their too great haste.

At Cariboo the weather from the 7th to the 14th of February had been very cold, the thermometer standing at 40° below zero and washing was discontinued, but after the 14th the weather moderated The winter, except in this instance had been mild.

Provisions were plenty Flour 85@90c, Bacon, $1 25, Beef, 40@50c, Tea, $3, Sugar, $1 50; Tobacco, $4

A man named Burger who has a ranch at Keithley's, had taken a lot of turnips to Williams Creek on Tabogans, and was selling them at 75c per pound

PAYING OFF.—The Steilacoom Herald of the 12th says that Paymaster Winston paid off the troops at that station on the 10th, and the next day took his departure for San Juan Island, to pay the troops at that post The troops were paid up to January 1st About two-thirds of the amount, we are informed, was in gold, the remainder in legal tender notes.

DESERTING.—The Puget Sound Herald says that the volunteers at Fort Steilacoom continue to desert at every opportunity, and that several deserted week before last.

Persons in favor of pushing on the war as a national necessity, are often now a-days, taunted by the poor spirited and the vindictive, who have suddenly become champions of peace, with the miscalculations made at the beginning of the war, as to its magnitude — But we observe that Jeff Davis does not hesitate to say that he was deceived He said in his Jackson speech

"I was among those who, from the beginning, predicted war as the consequence of secession, although I must admit that the contest has assumed proportions more gigantic than I had anticipated "

And again

"I invoke you not to delay a moment, but to rush forward and place yourself at the disposal of the State I have been one of those who, from the beginning, looked forward to a long and bloody war, but I must frankly confess that its magnitude has exceeded my expectations The enemy have displayed more power, and energy, and resources than I had attributed to them Their finances have held out far better than I imagined would be the case "

THE BATTLE OF LIFE —' Repose said Arnould to his friend Nicolo who sought to fly from the battle of life—and the words come to us like the voice of a trumpet sounding to arms—"Repose! NEW YORK, March 11 —A Washington special dispatch says that a Committee of the Chamber of Commerce had an interview with the President yesterday, urging him to make arrangements forthwith to issue letters of marque and reprisal under the recent act of Congress Their arguments are said to have made a strong impression on the President The contrary view was, however urged by Senators and by men prominent in opposition to the bill They represented to President Lincoln the dangers of foreign war in case he should do as requested The subject is understood to have been before the Cabinet at its meeting to day

Citizens of Fairfax Va were arrested there to day and sent to the old Capitol prison, charged with having piloted the rebels in their late raid on that place

The rebels who entered Fairfax just saved their distance in escaping with their plunder, Col Johnson following them so sharply as to recapture 30 or 40 horses

NEW YORK, March 11th —A Norfolk letter says a recent reconnoisance of Col Dodge from Norfolk has proved eminently successful He marched 110 miles, visiting South field, Chuckluck and Blackwater Bridge He met the enemy at Windsor, near the latter point, drove in their advance on the main body, and attacked them on the flanks and forced them to retreat to the Blackwater The fight lasted only forty minutes

He stated that, as he was on oath he must answer the question he attributed the failure to the incompetency of the commanding General

A refugee came in to day who left Richmond on Saturday He says he saw four brigades of rebel troops at Sexton's Junction going south. Price has been largely reinforced

THE NEW STEAM SLOOPS OF WAR —There is reason to fear that a terrible blunder has been made in the construction of some of the new steam sloops of war and that as a consequence several of them will be left and useless at a time when the public exigencies most demand their employment Despite the unfortunate experience of the past—the disastrous failures in naval construction and in machinery—it now looks as though all had profited nothing, We stumble blindly into a repetition of past follies so that now while boasting of a gigantic navy embracing not less than three hundred and eighty six vessels of all descriptions two hundred and eighty of them steamers a single rebel privateer may roam the ocean at will beyond the reach of the fleetest cruisers

It is subject for congratulation that at last something practical has been attempted to remedy this glaring defect in our system and that this very week a commission of nine engineers, disconnected entirely from the naval service convened in Philadelphia to examine into the character of the machinery for our newly built war steamers

Presentation of Colors to the E D Baker

EDITOR OREGONIAN

On the evening of the 10th inst the People's Transportation Company's new boat E D Baker cast off her lines for the first trial and steamed to Vancouver, in about two hours, carrying from 0 to 40 pounds of steam and making from 14 to 15 revolutions per minute

On Tuesday morning a number of ladies and gentlemen from the Garrison and town of Vancouver having assembled in the cabin of the boat a splendid set of colors was presented to Captain Baker with the following complimentary note by Mrs Hopkins the talented daughter of the late Senator Baker

GENTLEMEN —It take great pleasure in expressing to you my thanks for the distinguished honor of giving a name to the beautiful boat your enterprise has added to the list of new steamers for the navigation of the Columbia river

In presenting this acknowledgment of the great debt of gratitude your kindness has imposed please allow me the additional pleasure of presenting to the boat a suit of colors with E D BAKER the name of my revered father inscribed thereon

With kind wishes and earnest hope for the success of your boat

I remain yours very truly
LUCY S HOPKINS

To the President and Directors
People's Transportation Company

Mr A C R Shaw, on behalf of the Company, made the following reply

MADAM On behalf of the People's Transportation Company I gratefully receive this flag for the use of the steamer E D Baker In accepting, for the company, this glorious banner at the hands of a daughter of an illustrious American hero and statesman we bear witness of his exalted patriotism by which alike in the Senate and at the head of his troops he has added glory to this honored emblem of liberty. On an occasion like this the mind naturally reverts to the history of navigation on the waters of the greatest river on the western coast of America But a few years since its waters were cleft only by the canoe of the savage But a few years since and no emblem save that consecrated to war or the dark deeds of heathen mythology had ever caught the rays of the sun, as it gilded the tops of our snow clad mountains and looked down in its majesty on the placid waters of the Columbia What a change in that brief interval and the energy of the American people have wrought since this glorious emblem first floated over this river! We cannot forget that this was the first flag of civilization kissed by the breezes that play around the summit of yon venerable mountain Although but a short time has elapsed since that lone bark at whose mast head floated the ensign of liberty ' astonished the natives, the spirit of the water was then unknown Fulton had not then, Rarey like, by his genius, patience, perseverance and energy, bridled and saddled this giant spirit and taught it quietly to serve man In fancy let us view the Clermont as she moves from the docks of New York the derision and jest of the spectators In fancy, we will accompany her on her slow and novel voyage to Albany It is accomplished Look yonder! see those two men Behold the briny drops that course down the furrows of the weather browned and care worn face of the one who is receiving money Hearers hearers, do you comprehend it? He has triumphed at last! He is now receiving the first fruits of his wonderful genius, the recompense of his long years of weary struggle. Yes, he has triumphed Scoffers and jesters are silenced forever Their jeers are substituted for honoring plaudits Auspicious moment not only for Robert Fulton and for America, but for the whole race of mankind There is no surer indication of Christianity and civilization than the steamboat, wherever it goes the traveler may be sure that he is safe That there the guards of Christianity and civilization surround him Robert Fulton, by his genius skill and energy, enriched the banner of our nation with one of its brightest haloes of glory—gave to the American people a gift worthy of their reception, worthy of their energy and worthy of their flag a gift they appreciate and for which they thank him, a gift that has done more to render the American Nation what it is than all other arts and sciences combined

Conceive, if you can the American nation without steamboats How would the Mississippi, the Missouri the Ohio and the Columbia rivers with their tributaries, be navigated without the aid of steamers What sort of an American nation would we have Fellow citizens in the steamer E D Baker, we propose to do honor to two of America's benefactors We honor the one for his genius in teaching us the control of the spirit of the water—in teaching us the use of a power by which we can say to a certainty at such an hour or at such a minute God willing, we will land you at such a designated place We honor the other in giving his name to our boat, not that the naming this boat E D Baker can add anything to the glory of him who is enshrined in the heart of every patriot and lover of liberty wherever his name and deeds are known But by so doing we will daily bring to the remembrance of the many thousands that are destined to travel on the waters of this noble river under the ægis of our glorious flag, the deeds, aye the honored man! for so well is he known, and so deeply is his image engraven on our hearts that to see his name is to see the man, hear his eloquence and admire the hero

The colors having been hoisted upon the boat's flag staffs she returned to this city and proceeded on her pleasure excursion up to Milwaukie and back an account of which has already been given to your readers

I can only add that everything connected with the presentation of colors the trial trip and pleasure excursion of the E D Baker on that day was an entire success and the day was so lovely, the boat glided so swiftly and smoothly through the waters and Dehmister's Brass Band discoursed such fine music, that the excursionist could not help having a happy time

Mr. J. B. EMERY, Salem

In the Times of to-day, we find the following card:

The Challenge to Marion County Black Hawk Accepted.

To Messrs SHERLOCK & BACON, PORTLAND —I have noticed under date of "Portland March 13 1863, the challenge you published in the DAILY OREGONIAN To show [illegible] that I am in earnest let me say that I will trot my stallion, Black Hawk, against your horse, Manhattan or any other stallion now in Multnomah county, for $500 or [illegible] in coin, mile heats, 3 in 5, to harness you to name the track, and I to name the day I shall be in Portland in a few days, ready to close the race, if you are ready to [illegible] J B EMERY

Salem, March 16th, 1863

If you are really in earnest, why reserve to yourself the right to "name the day," unless it is to bridge over the season of your stallion It is important to stock-raisers in Oregon to know whether "Black Hawk is the fastest trotting stallion in the State," or not, without waiting a year. We propose to give them the opportunity, and we mean business. To show you that this is so, we now offer to trot our stallion against "Black Hawk," the race [illegible] in your card, on any day you may name, prior to the first day of April next Let us hear from you. About a match for a day after the season of your stallion is over, we shall have time to talk in a few days, when you are in Portland, and we tell you in advance, we are ready for that too Our money is up with E. W. Tracy, Esq, at the office of Wells, Fargo & Co., in this city.

Yours,
SHERLOCK & BACON

To the Ladies of California.

Dr Van Zandt's success with complaints of women both in family and office practice is owing to his correct views of the organism of all their maladies Ladies can consult him with entire confidence as he is no speculator upon human ills—but is proud [illegible] only member of the legitimate profession in California who is really successful in removing those ills which are the peculiar province of the sex His high appreciation of their delicately attuned nervous organism together with the great sympathetic [illegible] renders him [illegible] Nature [illegible] awaken the stricken energies restore the wonted [illegible] of the body awaken the [illegible] arrest those [illegible] which cause so much anxiety cure those protean maladies which have so long

All the world over

wherever disease exists whether special to the soil and climate or common to all regions—epidemic or casual, acute or chronic [illegible] contagious—it is as necessary to restore the ELECTRO-GALVANIC equilibrium especially in California, as it is to give food to the starving This statement is based upon a series of facts extending through many years and verified by hundreds of patients so that no principle of science no rule of experience no result of any well known cause rests upon more sure and unassailable foundations than those which underlie the world wide reputation of Electricity for the cure of all nervous [illegible] of the body faulty digestion mental and physical debility or prostration coughs asthma wandering pains of a rheumatic gouty or mercurial character and all forms of disease the result of scrofulous or cachectic habit of body

The Eye and Ear Diseases.

It must not be forgotten by the eye and ear sufferers that Dr Van Zandt has made these afflictions an especial study and that he is the only Surgeon in our State who has a diploma for that branch of practice Very many of the eye and ear troubles are purely deranged nervous action, and are cured by his electro-galvanic battery—as amaurosis, squinting cataract floating specks before the vision twitching of the eyelids nervous deafness, roaring and buzzing noises in the ears giddiness etc All operations successfully done on those delicate organs of sense.

GENERAL BURNSIDE BEFORE THE WAR COMMITTEE.—The Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Inquirer writes (February 8th) as follows

General Burnside was before the Committee on the Conduct of the War, to testify in response to the resolution of the Senate inquiring of his having been interfered with in his plans for the taking of Richmond. His testimony revealed some startling facts. None of the Committee doubted his word, and yet they were slow to believe that more than one General has been guilty of treason. Charges now hang over the heads of several officers in consequence of which, if true, any other Government save our own would order them to a military execution forthwith. His testimony will probably not all be reported to the Senate at present. Perhaps it will not be published to the world until after the war is over.

The difficulties that General Burnside has had thrown in his way since his taking command, from the day the pontoons were not forthcoming as per agreement with Generals Halleck and Meigs, to the day he resigned, were of all kinds. Imbecility, cowardice, apathy and treason met him at every turn. His orders were not always obeyed just when they should be, officers from whom more should have been expected shirked their duty, treason in our own camps exposed his plans to the enemy as rapidly as they were formed, and jealous officers succeeded in more than once preventing a forward movement at the opportune moment.

It is believed that the Court martial of General Franklin will bring many facts to light, and show to the country why we have again failed to take Richmond and destroy the rebel army of the Potomac.

General Burnside has again demanded that a command be given him where he can be of some service in suppressing the rebellion, or he will resign his commission. The statement which has been going the rounds of the press, that he has said General McClellan is the only man who is competent to lead the Army of the Potomac is entirely false. Men claiming to be the especial friends of General McClellan have proved to be the worst enemies of General Burnside and the country.

THE ARMY OF THE POTOMAC.—The Washington correspondent of the New York Tribune, under date of February 2d, thus speaks of this army:

The news from the army to-day is of the most encouraging description. Deep as the mud is, the army moves—to a new organization, to a better discipline, to a greater effectiveness. We can congratulate the country upon the prospect of a speedy abrogation of the grand divisions. General Hooker is determined to attend personally to the business of the whole force under his command, and to know its exact condition at all times. We can congratulate the country upon the approaching end of the half-loyal, half-hearted, heavy and slow Generals. Those whose spirit, speech and influence tend to produce insubordination and demoralization among the troops are doomed. The efficient officers in the army will now surely come up, and thorough discipline, for both officers and men, will surely be enforced—discipline that shall require unquestioning obedience to orders, and abstinence from criticism and from prophecy of disaster.

The new orders already issued are remarkable and remarked on for their appreciation of the value of time. They require promptitude of action. It has transpired from headquarters that failure to "come to time" will probably be the reason for liberal suspensions and dismissals from service. Leaves of absence have been limited to ten days in all cases save to the extreme New England and Western States, where fifteen are allowed.—Officers now absent without leave must look out for instant dismissal. They have been named in a general order. Circulars to division commanders require thorough inspection of all camps and immediate improvement of their sanitary condition. The roads, rain or no rain, are required to be put in order.—"Fighting Joe Hooker" has already won the name of "Working Joe Hooker." But the best news from headquarters is, that the General has made up his mind that in his army the capacity for command shall constitute the title to command.

STATEMENT OF COMMISSIONER BOUTWELL.—Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Boutwell, has submitted his first statement concerning the transactions of that bureau, from which it appears that the entire number of persons employed in assessing and collecting the revenue is 3,882. Mr Boutwell has not at the present time, the means of estimating, with confidence, the amount of revenue which will be derived under the excise law of July, '61. During the last month he has caused careful investigation to be instituted into the several sources of revenue, and an estimate to be made of the amount which may be derived from each. According to this, he received from all sources, except stamp duties, during the current fiscal year ending with June next, the sum of $61,777,799. He estimates that the receipts from stamp duties during the same period will amount to $15,000,000, making an aggregate sum of $76,777,799. It may be asserted that without a material change in the business of the country, the revenue from the same source, for the fiscal year 1863 and 1864 will not be less than $150,000,000. The estimates of receipts and expenditures show the cost of assessing and collecting the taxes under the present system will be two and forty one one-hundredths per cent.

The Commissioner has the strongest confidence that in the States now acknowledging the authority of the constitution, the expense can never exceed three per cent. He makes many important suggestions, including modifications of the law and the appointment of a solicitor or legal adviser.

THE HATTERAS AND ALABAMA.—The Jamaica Tribune and Advertiser, of January 24th gives the following account of the fight between these vessels:

The Alabama met, about twenty eight miles from Galveston, on the 11th of January, a steamer which hailed her. In reply the Alabama said that she was "Her Majesty's ship Petrel," and inquired the name of the interrogator. "We are the United States steamer Hatteras, in search of the Alabama," was the rejoinder. Immediately upon which, the supposed Petrel announced herself to be the vessel for which search was made, and accompanied the information with an infernal broadside that staggered her opponent and threw all into dismay. The fire was returned, but short work was made of it, for, in little more than fifteen minutes the commander, officers and men of the Hatteras were taken on board the Alabama, and soon after the Hatteras went down. The affair was short, decisive and victorious. The Hatteras, Commander Blake, carried seven guns—the Alabama carried eight.

When a member of the Legislature, on retiring to his shed between twelve and one o'clock, carefully lays his boots in the chair, and puts his stockings out at the door to be blacked, that member begins to feel the weight of his legislative responsibility.

A CHEERING CONTRAST.—C. F. Forney, writing from Washington to the Philadelphia Press, draws a very cheering contrast between our situation and that of the rebels. He says,

At no period has the condition of the rebels been so deplorable as at present. However former anticipations may have been disappointed in regard to their destitution and despondency, every item of information confirms the opinion that they are now in a much more hopeless condition than at any period since the beginning of the war. If we are forced to admit that, in consequence of domestic divisions and in consequence of the efforts of the sympathizers with secession (who have no other object but to embarrass, impede, misrepresent and destroy this Government,) the raising of new levies may be difficult in the free States, what must be the dilemma of the traitors in arms? With half of their land starving armies, they contemplate the future with dismal forebodings. What is required is a continuous vigorous and determined pressure upon them in front, at their rear and their flanks, concert and determination in the conduct of our own, unanimity among the people, and a resolute ignoring of all factions and factions among those who are known to be the friends of the Government. When we contrast our financial condition with that of the rebels, we can afford to laugh at the gloomy prognostications of every class of our enemies. The rebel Secretary of the Treasury, Memminger, confesses that the debt, up to December last, was over $500,000,000, and also that it will require, between December and July, of the present year, $357,920,000 to carry on their war—making a grand total of $914,054,000, which is only a little less than our debt at the present time. We have a system of revenue by which the Federal Government will realize in the coming fiscal year at least $250,000,000, out of which to pay the expenses of the Government and the interest on the public debt! Chase estimates that by the last of July this will slightly transcend $1,000,000,000. This contrast needs no elaboration. It is as terrible as it is cheering. Look next at the condition of our working classes. They never were more comfortable and happy. Great fortunes may be swept away, the owners of stocks and of bonds may be prostrated, but everywhere manufactories are springing up, based upon the great truth that we are competent to our own protection and subsistence, that we are independent of all other nations, and that, whether we feed and clothe our people from the products of our soil or by the labor of our hands, we are strong enough and rich enough, animated by the inspiration of a good cause, and stimulated by the consciousness that our enemies are bent upon the destruction of human liberty, to fight this great battle to a victorious and to a perpetual close. It may be contended that, while labor is well paid, the necessaries upon which labor exists have largely increased in price, but it may be replied, when the people of a country are constantly employed, they are better able to bear their burdens than in a state of idleness, and it is a further fact, no less cheering, that, while sympathizers are trying to excite hostility to the Government, and to the cause in which that Government is laboring, by pointing to the taxes necessary to its support, the toiling millions only slightly feel that which the heretofore rich and prosperous are called upon to sustain. When we think of the desperate and forlorn condition of the slaveholding South, we should cease complaint of our own temporary embarrassments.

*The Illinois Legislature has appointed a com*mittee to prevent the emigration of negroes into that State.

PROSPECTUS.

THE UNDERSIGNED TAKE PLEASURE IN announcing to the citizens of Dalles City, Wasco County, and the public generally of Oregon and Washington Territory, that on or about Monday, the 6th day of April, we will commence the publication of a Daily and Weekly Newspaper at Dalles City, Oregon, to be called the DEMOCRATIC STATE JOURNAL.

The JOURNAL will be devoted to the interest, the principles and augmentation of the Democratic organization upon the basis of the State and National platforms of that party, upon which the late glorious victories in the great States of New York, Pennsylvania, Indiana, Illinois, Ohio and New Jersey were achieved, and of which sound and patriotic statesmen as Seymour and Richardson are the champions and defenders. It shall be the aim of the JOURNAL to aid the Democratic party [illegible] by speaking the truth and discussing public measures freely, fully and fearlessly, without the hope or expectation of favor or reward other than the proud satisfaction of doing the duty of an American Citizen.

Due and ample attention will be paid to the mining interest, by chronicling all information of those varied operations in the extensive and gradually developing gold fields East of the Cascade Mountains. To secure early, full and reliable intelligence upon this important branch of industry arrangements have been perfected which will secure to the JOURNAL authentic and regular correspondence from all the different localities attracting public attention. The interest of the State in general will all receive prominent attention. In a word we are determined to publish a journal that may be perused with profit by all.
